1st December 2023

Dear parents and carers,

The weather has certainly taken a wintry turn this week – we even had a smattering of snow this afternoon. Please make sure that children are dressed appropriately for the weather and that their name is clearly visible in items such as coats, hats, scarves and gloves.

Next week is assessment week and we are looking forward to seeing how much progress the children have made this term. They have certainly been working very hard and are ready to show everyone how well they have been doing.

We hope you will be able to visit our art exhibition next week. Emily and Flora are very proud and excited to show you some of the children's portraits. The exhibition will be open after school until 5pm on Tuesday and Wednesday in the Year 5 Hall.

Thank you to everyone who has been helping with Kelley's collection of plastic bottles for our greenhouse project. We have tipped the 500 mark but still need many more. You can drop off your 2 litre bottles at the Reception gate or the school office. Thank you for your support.

I hope you have a lovely weekend.

Best wishes

Reception Forest School

Reception have had fun making and eating popcorn at forest school this week!

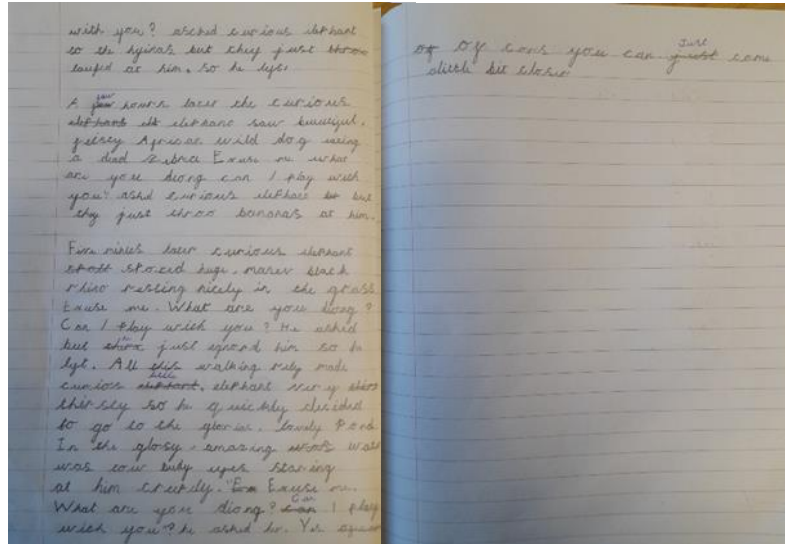

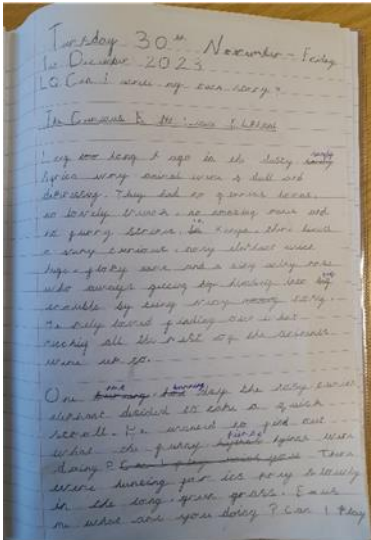

Year 1 Computing

Year 1 have been developing our digital painting skills during computing, this half term. We have used a wide variety of tools on 'Paint', to recreate our own versions of famous art works by artists including Matisse, Mondrian, Kandinsky and Seurat. Have a look at our masterpieces!

Year 2 Story Writing

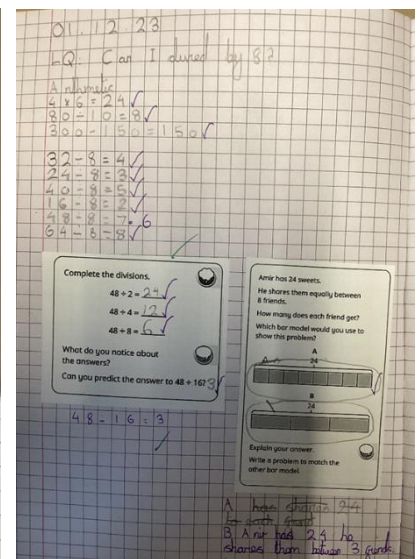

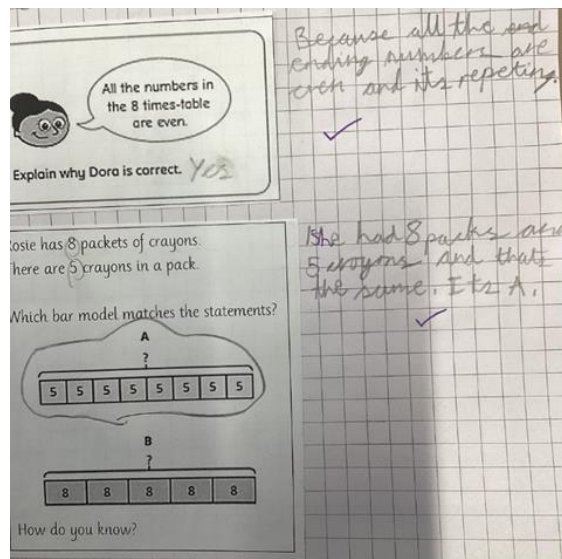

This week, in year 2, we created our stories of how the elephant got its trunk. Our story takes place in Africa. It follows the curious elephant who goes on a journey, makes many new friends and his eventual encounter with a crocodile that resulted in what we now call a 'trunk'.

Year 3 Maths

Year 3 have been continuing to find out all about multiplication and division and how these operations are interlinked. They enjoyed using counters and Numicon to make arrays before moving to more abstract methods of solving problems.

Everyone is learning to use this knowledge and apply it to reasoning and problem-solving activities.

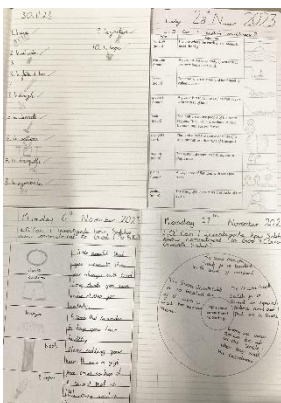

Year 4 Trip

Year 4 had a fantastic time at the Barbican Centre last week. They heard the awe-inspiring sound of the London Symphony orchestra, playing beautiful arrangements of classical pieces, selected to accompany the enchanting story of Diwali. They enjoyed joining in, stamping, clapping and singing the classic Bollywood song, Jai Ho.

Year 4 Vocabulary

In Year 4, we have been designing our own icons to help us remember key vocabulary in French, RE and reading.

Resource Base – Green Pathway

It has been very cold this week and we have been spotting ice everywhere! We brought a big piece of ice back from forest school and watched it melt on a plate. We also threw ice on the floor and watched it break into lots of pieces today.

Resource Base – Blue Pathway

For cooking this week, Isaiah's mum, Nickesha, came in and helped the children cook up a feast of curry goat, rice and peas, coleslaw and plantain. The children shared the food together and experienced new flavours and textures. Thank you Nickesha – it was delicious!!

Year 5 - RE

In Year 5, we have been learning Christian stories, bringing them to life through interactive activities. Children had the opportunity to act out various stories collaboratively, sparking lively discussions afterward. They were then able to share their favourite story and articulate the reasons behind their choices.

Year 6 - Geography

In geography, we have been learning about mountains and how they are formed. A mountain is a landform that rises above its surroundings. There are four main types of mountains: fold, dome, fault- block and volcanic mountains. We found out that fold mountains are the most common type of mountain. The tectonic plates push forwards slowly over the years, making more and more folds. We also found it interesting to think about the mountains that we have seen or climbed before and what kind of mountains these could be.

Rocco and Jake, 6C.

Attendance Matters

It is extremely important that children attend school every day to enable them to make progress and achieve. Just one day's absence can mean that children find it difficult to keep up with their learning for the rest of the week or longer. Our attendance target is 97%. Thank you for your support in ensuring your child is in school every day.

Message from Children in Need

We hope you had a SPOTacular time watching our Appeal Show. The donations we've received will help us to continue changing the lives of children and young people across the UK.

Thank you so much for all you've done.

Online Safety

What Schools Need to Know about THE ONLINE SAFETY ACT

The Online Safety Act was passed into UK law in October 2023, with the aim of establishing major new layers of protection for children when they're online. The government has pledged "a zero-tolerance approach to protecting children from online harm" – and the act certainly includes more powerful legislation which should help to safeguard young people in the digital world. Our guide summarises the key points for schools...

WHAT THE ACT WILL DO

HARMFUL CONTENT

Social media sites must rapidly remove illegal and/or harmful content such as bullying or harassing comments; pornography; and content that supports extremist activity or encourages or depicts violence, suicide, self-harm or eating disorders. If they fail to do so, they can be fined up to 10% of their global revenue while their executives may even face jail time.

ANIMAL CRUELTY

Content featuring cruelty to animals is now prohibited, even if it originates from abroad (where the law may be different). Again, it is the platform's responsibility to remove this.

MORE TRANSPARENCY

Sites must be transparent about the hazards that any children using them could encounter – by publishing risk assessments for their platforms, for instance.

HOSTING MISLEADING ADVERTS

Scams and fraudulent adverts must be blocked or removed, or the hosting companies are liable to be fined.

NON-CONSENSUAL SHARING

It's now easier to convict online abusers or people who share intimate images without consent, while legislation on the criminality of deepfakes has been clarified. The new laws also relate to any individuals who even threaten to share such images. This should help to protect women and girls in particular online.

REPORTING AND FILTERING

Sites should have easy reporting mechanisms for children (or their parents and carers) to flag up problems quickly. They must also provide options to filter out unwanted content.

AGE-RESTRICTED MATERIAL

Sites must prevent children from accessing age-inappropriate material. This includes enforcing age limits and implementing robust age verification.

What this means for you

The act has some specific implications for schools: it's essential that leaders understand the new legislation's scope and limitations. The act is certainly a positive step, but as artificial intelligence and other advances in tech continue to produce new challenges, schools will still need to remain extremely vigilant.

KNOW WHERE TO GET HELP

Look out for the Code of Conduct that Ofcom is creating in response to the Online Safety Act. Note that the new legislation doesn't mean an instant change: many of its elements will only come into force at the end of 2023. An Ofcom consultation on 'protecting people from illegal harms online' will be running until February 2024.

REMEMBER THE ESSENTIALS

Remain mindful of your organisation's own online activities: the legal duty for schools to maintain appropriate software monitoring and filtering, for example, will not change.

WATCH FOR FUTURE DEVELOPMENTS

There are some issues on which the legislation remains less clear for now: whether it's possible for Ofcom to scan encrypted private messages (such as on WhatsApp) has yet to be resolved, for instance – making this an area where, for the moment, young people have less legal protection.

UNDERSTAND AND EXPLAIN

Staff should learn how to raise concerns with tech companies whose platforms contain anything upsetting or unpleasant. Students also need to be made aware of the newly strengthened laws relating to cyber-bullying, sexting or posting inappropriate content. Young people do make mistakes online – so the clearer their understanding of the possible consequences, the better.

ENGAGE WITH PARENTS

Schools should also explain to parents and carers the new possibilities that the Online Safety Act affords them in terms of protecting their children. Many parents may have previously felt that there was little they could do about changing online platforms' content; they now have a far greater level of support when complaining about a company or the behaviour of an individual.
